FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

The Yorktown Celebration---"Uncle Sam's" Settlement with Railroads---Naval Inspectors.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.—Senator Randolph, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill for the relief of Fitzjohn Porter. (This bill has heretofore been published.)

Senator Logan made a minority report. He dissented in toto from the preamble. First: That the President had no authority to organize the commission to examine the case by taking ex parte testimony. Second: That the action of the court-martial is not reviewable by Congress. Third: That Congress has no right to pay any person for services rendered because of exclusion from the army. The bill was placed on the calender.

Senator Edmunds offerred a resolution which was agreed to instructing the common judiciary to inquire in the settlement or adjustment between the United States and the Railroads mentioned or provided for in the act of February 22d, 1875, to provide for the settlement with certain railway companies; any discrimination or difference of treatment has been made by United States officers in favor of one or more if such companies, as against others, and if so, what further legislation if any one subject is expedient.

Senator Pendleton introduced a bill to authorize the appointment of medical inspectors in the navy to the office of chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery and to remove the disability of the present incumbent.

Senator Coke presented a memorial of the State Grange of Texas praying for the regulation of inter-State commerce.

Mr. Morrill, from the Finance Committee, reported adversely on the bill to establish the office of an assistant treasurer at Charleston, S. C., and it was indefinitely postponed.

Senator Morgan introduced a bill for the relief of the Medical College of Alabama. Referred.

A number of bills of minor importance were introduced and referred and several private pension bills passed. The Senate then resumed consideration of the joint resolution withdrawing compulsory legal tender power of the United States notes, which had been reported adversely from the committee on Finance.

Senator Bayard made a long speech in support of the views of the minority of that committee, at the conclusion of which the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Goode, of Virginia, chairman of the committee on the Yorktown Celebration, reported a bill to carry into effect the resolution adopted by Congress in October, 1781, in regard to the monumental column at Yorktown. Passed.

Mr. Cook, of Georgia, from the committee on Postoffices and Roads, reported back the bill declaring all the public roads and highways as post routes, and authorizing the Postmaster-General to put postal service on all such routes when public necessity requires it. Upon objection by Mr. Blount, of Georgia, the bill was withdrawn.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, on revision of the rules.

The new rules as far as rule seven were agreed to, with unimportant amendments. Adjourned.

Small Favors Thankfully Received.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The House committee on public buildings and grounds to-day agreed upon the bills appropriating money for the erection of public buildings at places and in the amounts as follows:

At Montgomery, Ala. $125,000; at Jackson, Miss. $100,000; at Lynchburg, Va. $75,000; at Charleston, W Va. $80,000.

The Fusionists Ignored.

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 27.—The Supreme Judicial Court has rendered its unanimous decision in declining to recognize the Fusionist bodies at Augusta, and explicitly declaring the House and Senate now holding their sessions in the State House to be the legal legislature of Maine.

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 27.—The Justices of the Supreme Court arrived last night. They will confer to-day upon the Fusion questions.

Nomination.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The President sent to the Senate to-day the nomination of J. D. Stanford, of North Carolina, to be supervisor of the census for the third North Carolina district.

Closing Exercises of Wilson Collegiate Institute.

Correspondence of the News.

WILSON, N. C., Jan. 26.—It was the good fortune of your correspondent to attend the Concert which marked the close of the winter session of the Wilson Female Seminary, and I am sure the expectations of all were more than realized. The patrons and friends of this justly celebrated institution of learning were loud in their expressions of approbation, and visitors went away perfectly delighted with the delightful concert. It was one of the most enjoyable and successful ever given at this Seminary; and this is saying a great deal when I take into consideration the number of excellent musicians who have presided over the realms of music here, and who have, in days gone by, given entertainments which would rival those of any institution in the State. And right here please let me say that the learned, accomplished, and talented instructress in music—Miss Emma Hoke—has achieved a triumph of which she may justly feel proud, and which will stamp her as one of the best music teachers of the age.

The concert, from what I could learn of the citizens generally, was a fair criterion by which to judge of the merits of this school, and of the progress and thrift which have noted the past session. I am glad to see that the Seminary is more prosperous now than ever, and that the prospects are continually brightening.

It promises well for the good of Wilson and all the section contiguous hereto. Good teachers, good society, good health, good water, good buildings, good food and good attention are among the solid and substantial claims upon which the patronage of the public is asked, and it is the boast of the town people that these claims are being recognized. Professor Brewer is strongly intrenched in the confidence of the people, and, as a manager and instructor has no superior in the State.

Mrs. E. F. Hammond, a lady of culture and fine attainments presides over the department of French and German, and gives entire satisfaction.

Mrs. S. W. Adams, in the primary department, is most admirably fitted for the position by education and experience, and has proved that Professor Brewer made a happy selection when he assigned her to this department.

Mrs. Brewer, the excellent wife of the principal, presides over the "home" department, and bestows upon all who come under her charge, all those evidences of kindness, courtesy, refinement and dignity, which flow through the character of a cultivated, well bred and christian woman.

All in all, the Wilson Female Seminary deserves success, and it does commend it. T. H.

THE NORTH CAROLINA EXODUS.

An Enterprising Railroad Man Who Took the Negroes to Indiana and Expects to Carry Them Back Again.

New York World.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Senate committee on the colored exodus today examined J. P. Dukehart, Southern Passenger Agent of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. He testified that he has made several visits to North Carolina to secure as large a share as possible of the exodus travel, and that he effected arrangements with the local promoters of the movement by which his road obtained the transportation of all the colored people who have since emigrated to Indiana. The through rate from Goldsboro to Indianapolis for them was $16.65 for each person over twelve years, half fare for children from five to twelve, and younger children free. In all these arrangements the company agreed to pay to Z. Taylor Evans, of Goldsbro—a colored man who "worked up" the emigration—a drawback of $1 per head for each full-fare passenger and 50 cents for each half ticket sold. This was a well-known standing inducement held out by himself and the agents of competing railroads to men like Evans and Perry and Williams to get up as large an emigration as possible. Evans told the witness that he began working up the exodus sixteen months ago by means of mass meetings, secret societies, etc., and the witness while in North Carolina had seen many of the circulars asserting that the colored people would find plenty of work in Indiana at wages of from $1 to $1.50 per day. Perry and Williams also circulated a report that the emigrants on reaching Washington, would be provided with new clothes and transportation to Indiana or Kansas. The circulars referred to were largely made up of editorials from the Greencastle (Ind.) Banner, and also included what purported to be certificates from a number of North Carolina colored people, who had already gone to Indiana, that they had found work and advising their friends to follow. Perry left the State suddenly during the winter on account of an indictment for forging school certificates and had not returned. But Evans and others were still at work, and in the opinion of the witness the exodus would continue just as long as the colored people could raise money to pay their fare, or until it is checked by unfavorable reports from their friends at the other end of the line. In this event he would go out to Indiana and try to secure them as passengers back over the Baltimore and Ohio lines. (Laughter.) The number of tickets sold for the transportation of these North Carolina emigrants was 763, of which 253 were half-fare tickets. Full one-half of the 528 full-fare tickets were for women and at least sixty four of the remaining two hundred and sixty-four full-fare tickets must have been for male passengers between the ages of twelve and twenty years.]

Mr. Windom remarked that not more than two hundred of the emigrants could by any possibility vote at the next Indiana election.

Mr. H. W. Mendenhall testified that he had assisted in forming the "Emigrant Aid Society," of Washington. He suggested at the first meeting that if Indiana could offer any inducements to negro emigrants it would be well to have them go there, as they were generally Republicans and would strengthen the Republican party in that State. He had received a private letter from United States Marshall Dudley, of Indiana, who said that, as a political measure, the Republican party in Indiana disclaimed any part in the movement, but if employment could be found for the colored people in Indiana, he would be glad to see them come there. He understood from this letter that the Republican party leaders in Indiana would not participate in the movement. His own connection with the exodus was this: About the first October he was introduced to Perry and Williams of North Carolina, who wanted to emigrate to Kansas. He told them there were other States beside Kansas that they could go to for much less and fare better, and mentioned Ohio and Indiana. Perry and Williams spoke about the low wages in North Carolina and said they and their people were determined to go somewhere. Mr. Mendenhall suggested Indiana and wrote to Judge Martindale, of Indiana, about them. A few weeks afterwards he received a postal card from Dr. Elliott, of Indianapolis, asking him to send Perry and Williams there. He afterwards heard that the North Carolina party had emigrated to Indiana and had secured employment in and around Greencastle. On cross-examination he said that he did not know of any Republican politicians in Indiana engaging in this movement as a political measure.

Too Much Inference.

Detroit Free Press.

If you hand three pennies to the stamp clerk at the post office he infers. His inference is that you want a three cent stamp, and he shoves one at you rather quicker than lightning. His inference holds good on two cents and a single penny, and he hits it ninety-nine times out of a hundred. He, however, got left yesterday. A bulky, slow moving old woman came in with half a dozen things to mail, and her first move was to hand in a three cent piece. He retaliated with a green stamp, but she shoved it back with the remark:

"Who said I wanted a three! Give me three ones."

She licked them on with great care, and then handed in three pennies. The clerk this time threw out three ones, but she rejected one of them with the indignant protest:

"What are you trying to do? I want a two and a one!"

In due time she had licked these on as well, and then she handed in four cents. The clerk scratched his head, hesitated, and threw out a three and a one.

"See here, young man, you're getting perfectly reckless!" she exclaimed, as she glanced at the stamp. "I want one stamped envelope for that money!"

She got it, and the clerk made up his mind that he would catch her on the next sale or resign his position. She posted several packages, and then sauntered up and laid down a penny. That could only call for a penny stamp, and the young man chuckled as he tore it off.

"What are you giving me now?" snapped the woman, as she drew herself up.

"A penny stamp."

"Who asked for a penny stamp?"

"You put down a penny."

"So I did; but I was a penny short on Carrier No. 8 yesterday, and I wanted you to hand it to him."

For the next hour, when any money was laid down, the clerk asked what was wanted.

WASHINGTON.

THE LATEST NEWS FROM THE NATION'S CAPITAL.

Grant or Blaine---The Indians---The Sugar Men---The Seymour Letter, &c.

Baltimore Sun, 27th.

Senator Lamar's friends are much relieved by advices received by Senator Gordon as to his condition. He has left Jackson, and is now at his home in Oxford, and his health improves steadily. A dispatch from Gen. Walthall, who, in the early stage of the recent Senatorial struggle in Mississippi was a prominent candidate, and Mr. Lamar's choice as Bruce's successor, informs Senator Gordon that Senator Lamar may be expected in Washington very soon.

There was a meeting to-night at Senator Don Cameron's house, which was attended by a number of the leading Republican politicians of Pennsylvania. The object was to have Mr. Cameron agree upon some plan by which the Pennsylvania delegation to the Chicago convention should act as a unit. Mr. Cameron wants the delegation to go solid for Grant. It has been discovered that the Blaine feeling is so strong that this is impossible. So the conference to-night was at the request of the Blaine men, with the object of having Mr. Cameron to agree to Blaine as a second choice with the delegation, should Grant be out of the question. No conclusion was reached.

Richmond Dispatch, 27th.

One has only to sojourn in Washington and observe the Indians, male and female, who come from the West to conclude that either Mr. F. Cooper was the greatest fraud among all the novelists or the Indians have wofully changed since the Moticians were lords of the forest.

The Washington Sunday Chronicle yesterday gave a graphic account of a dinner-party given by Mrs. Sprague to a few select friends, including Mrs. Senator Conkling.

The sugar-men have already rallied here in full force, and will urge a revision and simplification of the tariff on sugar. My judgment is that they will contend for three rates of duty—first, on sugars below 13, Dutch standard, second, on sugars between 13 and 16, Dutch standard; and third, for sugars above 16 of the same standard.

I met the gentleman to-day who has the Seymour letter; and while it contains what I have already stated in my dispatches, still he is sure, in spite of it, that Mr. Seymour will accept the nomination if it is tendered to him by the Democratic party.

On Wednesday the Senate will listen to eulogies on the late Zachariah Chandler. Senator Bayard will make his financial speech to-morrow. Governor Pitkin, of Colorado, is here about the Utes. The Mayor of Dublin acknowledges the receipt of $2,500 donated by Washington to the Irish relief fund. Mrs. Christinacy went to Pennsylvania with her husband, but has returned, and is now in Maryland with her mother.

Digest of Supreme Court Decisions, January Term, 1880.

[Reported for the NEWS by Walter Clark, Esq., Attorney-at-Law.]

4. BY SMITH, C. J. Roberts v. Roberts, from ——.

It is a settled rule of law that when a witness is impeached he can be corroborated by showing that soon after the matter occurred, he made the same statement in regard to it. The acts and declarations of a testator upon an issue relating solely to the contents of a lost or destroyed deed and in enlargement of his own estate are incompetent, more especially when they tend to show not so much the words of the lost deed as the testator's conception of their legal effect.

5. BY SMITH, C. J. Watson v. Commissioners of Pamlico, from Pamlico.

When a portion of one county is annexed to another, the portion so added becomes liable for taxation to pay pre-existing liabilities of the county to which it is annexed, unless the General Assembly in the act of the transfer makes some exception.

6. BY SMITH, C. J. Wharton v. Commissioners of Currituck, from Currituck.

Ch. 243, Acts 1874-75, requiring all claims against counties, cities and towns to be registered within two years or be barred, does not apply to "bonds" in regard to which full and accurate information was already in possession of the county authorities. The entry on docket "plaintiff takes a non-suit, judgment against plaintiff for costs" is a judgment of non-suit even though the plaintiff was present and parol evidence is not admissable to contradict or explain the record. It seems, that where a demand before suit brought is necessary, a previous suit for the same cause of action (with complaint filed setting it out) in which a non-suit was suffered is a sufficient demand.

7. BY ASHE, J. State v. Benthall, from Hertford.

The Superior Court has no jurisdiction of the offence of "failure to list property and poll for taxation." The Court can quash an indictment in all cases where it has no jurisdiction, even after the plea of "not guilty" is entered.

8. BY ASHE, J. State v. Braswell, from Halifax.

Where counsel used abusive language of the defendant, in his address to the jury, and the judge immediately ordered him to desist, and also in his charge to the jury cautioned them not to be influenced by it, the Judge did all that the law required, and the defendant has no ground for a new trial.

9. BY ASHE, J. Nelson v. Whitfield, from Pitt.

The fact that a will was found in a book kept by the clerk of the old court of Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions which court had jurisdiction of the Probate of Wills is prima facie evidence of the Probate of said will, when the records have since been destroyed. In such case, evidence of a will having been read to the crowd at the funeral is competent and the statement by a witness of its contents is some evidence to be left to a jury as to whether or not it is the will which was recorded. The declaration of a person in possession of land, explanatory of the character of possession is admissible in evidence when in disparagement of the title. When parol evidence is loose and intermediate or is circumstantial, the court will not permit a demurrer to the evidence unless the party demurring will distinctly admit upon the record every fact and every conclusion which the evidence offered conduces to prove.

10. BY DILLARD, J. Shields v. McDowell, from Halifax.

A petition filed by a personal representative for license to sell real estate to pay debts is sufficient, if the insufficiency of personal assets and the extent thereof is clearly shown, although a portion of the assests are in the hands of such personal representative not actually applied, and the petition does not contain the averment that the personal assets are exhausted.

11. BY DILLARD, J. Braswell v. Pope, from Edgecombe.

Where two notes were given for money, contemporaneous parol evidence is admissible to prove that they were given upon an agreement that the payee should surrender them, and the payor accept them as so much money in part payment of a judgment against a third person which the payor expected to recover and was to assign to the payee. Such evidence does not alter or vary the written contract contained in the notes. Furthermore since only a part of the original contract was reduced to writing, it is admissible to show the other parts of it by parol. Where a contract is one of mutual dependent stipulations to be performed at one and the same time, the contract on each side forming the consideration on the other side, the right of one to demand performance of the other is dependent on his own performance, and if one is unable or disables himself, to perform his part of the mutual contract, he cannot require the other to perform his.

12. BY DILLARD, J. In the matter of Wilson Walker, from Chowan.

A sentence of imprisonment of 90 days for contempt of court is erroneous. The limit by Act of Assembly is 30 days. Where in answer to a rule for contempt in not obeying a writ of Habeas Corpus, the defendant answers under oath averring that it his course in the matter was through ignorance, and with no disrespect to the court nor from any disposition to disobey its orders he is fully acquitted and should be discharged. If on any particular point the answer is not full, the defendant may be specially interrogated thereon by the court and required to purge himself in regard thereto.

Grant's Boom Gone with Him.

Washington Star.

The impression evidently obtains very largely in political circles that the Grant boom is on the decline. The General seems to have carried the boom with him into the darkness and obscurity of the Florida swamps. The anti-Grant Republicans are much encouraged at what they regard as the collapse of the "third term movement," but the supporters of the ex-President intimate that everything is lovely. They talk as if it were a part of the plan to have General Grant pass, comparatively, out of public notice for a season. It is predicted that he will return just before the meeting of the National Convention, and that then he will carry everything with a rush. It has been reported from anti-Grant sources, recently, that Senator Don Cameron "had become convinced that it would not do to run Gen. Grant for a third term." A United States Senator, who, doubtless, knows Senator Cameron's sentiments and intentions as well as any man living, said to-day, referring to this report: "There is not a word of truth in it. Cameron is for Grant, and for nobody else. He honestly believes that Grant is the strongest man his party can nominate, and he intends to do all in his power to nominate him."

PATTI'S MONK.

How the Prima's Husband Caused Trouble in the Troupe.

San Francisco Chronicle.

Among the extensive body of retainers and employes which follow Madame Carlotta Patti in her tour through this country has been, up to last Saturday evening, one Ernest Fischof, formerly a captain in the Austrian army, who relinquished the pursuit of glory at the cannon's mouth for that of dollars at Madame Patti's mouth, being engaged as her financial secretary for the American and Australian tours. The least enjoyable portion of his duties was the whenever Monk, or Mr. Patti, the satellite that revolves about his domestic moon, was afflicted with a fit of ill temper. He put up with several of Mr. Monk's explosions, as did all the rest of the party, but on Saturday evening he lost his temper and created an impassable breach in their relations, as well as in Mr. Monk's garments, by violently kicking him. The scene of the preliminary skirmish was the dining-room of the Palace Hotel, where Mr. Monk, his domestic pate de fois gras, and Fischof were dining. Mr. Monk declared that there was no legal means of collecting a debt in this country, and Mr. Fischof presumed to differ. This uncalled for action on his part made him the recipient of a linguistic donation from Monk in choice Italian, comprising all the insults he could think of at short notice. Fischof finished his repast on trifles, chewing his moustache and his anger, and as soon as the party had adjourned to the hall collared Mr. Monk and began to take physical satisfaction from the prima donna's worse half. The fracas was stopped and the interested parties adjourned immediately to Annie street, in the rear of the hotel, where Mr. Fischof expressed his sentiments so impressively that after a pummelling Monk beat a masterly retreat, helped on by Fischof's boot. Monk went straight to Patti and told his story, and she wrote a letter discharging Fischof on the spot. He replied in conservative fashion and laid his case before Colonel W. H. L. Barnes, who at his request, is preparing papers to sue for Fischof's money and his return passage to Austria as per contract. Fischof, who has evidently been expecting some final fuss of this kind, has kept a record of Monk's eccentricities, which reads as follows, the sad story being made still sadder by the pathetic patois:

M. MONK.

Octobre 2—He abuse shameful M. Chizzola, a l'Academie de la Museque in New York.

Octobre 28—On ze R. R. from Albany jusqu'a Detroit, he violently insulte M. Ketter.

Novembre 1—At ze Tift House, Boofalo, Madame Patti send her maid for me at 10 o'clock and 12 o'clock to proteger from him.

Novembre 10—At Evansville he raiz zé d—l on ze stage and break up ze business.

Novembre 13—At ze Bissell House, Detroit, he severely insult M. and Madame Ketter and M. and Madame Chizzola.

Novembre 14—At ze Grande Hotel, Cincinnati, he use violence to Madame Patti.

Novembre 15—At ze Allen House, Springfield, he shameful abuse myself.

Janufer 2—At Reno at ze Depot Hotel he beat Madame Patti's maid.

Jan. 2—At ze Palace Hotel he try to beat Madame Patti wiz a chair.

Fischof received 10 per cent. of Madame Patti's receipts, she receiving 25 per cent. of all Chizzola's receipts, who paid all expenses.

Would Gladly Call Him Back.

Statesville Landmark.

There appears to be no doubt that the board of directors of the Western North Carolina railroad passed unfavorably upon the proposition of the representative of the New York syndicate to purchase the Western North Carolina Railroad, and the Governor Jarvis was likewise unfavorable and sent the Representative home with a flea in his ear. There is not one of them who will not live to see the day when he would gladly call him back, but ten to one he will never come again.

Colonel I. M. Holt.

Hillsboro Recorder.

A man enough of the politician to claim character as a sound Democrat—enough of the working man to command the support of the people; this much for the present.

A CAVE OF GIANTS.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY IN THE OHIO VALLEY.

The Cardiff Hero Nowhere---A Subterranean Mausoleum Decorated with Paintings and Sculpture.

Philadelphia Press, 25th.

MANCHESTER, O., Jan. 19.—The Ohio Valley, and this immediate section in particular, is rich in the remains of that wonderful pre-historic race, the evidences of whose civilization have been perpetuated in those curious pieces of engineering from which is derived the euphonious name "Mound Builders," given them by archæologists. Within the past few days wonderful discoveries have been made in this vicinity which open up a new chapter in the history of this remarkable race, and throw much light upon their manner of living, their character, their social habits and their physical nature.

THE OLD SMITH FARM

is now owned by Mr. Samuel Grooms and is a fertile, well-cultivated body of land. About a quarter of a mile from the house is a level field of two hundred odd acres, surrounded by loftly hills. In the center of this field is the entrance to the cave. As you near the mouth of the cave there is a "sink hole." At the bottom of this circular basin is a hole three feet in diameter and about twenty-five feet in depth, at which distance from the surface you strike the floor of the first chamber in the cave, a dry cavern, twenty by thirty feet, with smooth, even floor, roof and walls of freestone. Crossing this room you enter a corridor six feet in width, which connects with another chamber smaller than the first, and this in turn is connected with a third chamber by a similar corridor. The third room is about the size of the first, but it has a lofty arched dome and the walls, floor and roof are of limestone.

In one corner of the fourth chamber is an elevation which, when once surmounted, discloses a yawning well, with a mouth ten feet in diameter and of unknown depth. Apply your ear to the edge of the well and you hear the hollow roaring of an underground stream hundreds of feet below. Beyond the fourth chamber are five others, connected by narrow galleries. The cave comes to an end against a perpendicular wall of solid rock in the ninth chamber and about five hundred yards from its mouth. The floor of all the chambers except the third one, where the limestone crops out, are dry.

DOWN THE WELL.

A few days ago a party of gentlemen of this county, interested in archæological researches, visited the cave, well provided with ropes, lanterns and tools, bent on exploring the mysterious well in the fourth chamber. An improvised rope ladder, sixty feet in length, was lowered down the well. Then one of the party descended, whilst the others watched above.

About 50 feet down the explorer found the entrance to another cavern. This gallery at its mouth is ten feet six inches high and five feet four inches in width. The gallery is straight and fifty feet in length, where it enters a large room two hundred and twenty feet long, one hundred and ten feet wide and twenty feet high. The gallery the chamber measures twenty-five feet across. The roof, floor and walls are smooth and even. In the center of this apartment is a sarcophagus and mausoleum combined. The mausoleum at its base measures fifty-five by thirty-five feet. It is of simple, though beautiful design, and carved out of the solid rock. Its base is paneled on all sides, these panels containing bas-reliefs which are supposed to represent the four seasons in man's life—childhood, youth, manhood and old age. At the ends of the bas-reliefs are tablets full of written characters, in shape something like the Hebraic, presumed to be memoriams of the person or persons in whose honor the mausoleum is erected. The carving on the bas-reliefs is of the most delicate description, and fully equal to the Grecian school of sculpture.

THE FIGURE OF A GIANT.

On a couch is extended the figure of a man. It is probably of life size, and measures nine feet four inches in length. The limbs are finely proportioned and disposed in an easy and graceful manner. The arms are folded across the breast and the fingers clasp a bunch of leaves resembling oak, reproduced with such fidelity to nature that they look like petrifactions. Every vein and serration of the leaf is perfect. The figure is partially nude, a mantle or scarf crossing the breast and loins and falling in graceful folds on each side. The face is one of great strength and beauty, and the features are of a Hebrew cast. The head is covered with a winged cap, or helmet. At each corner of the couch is a vase four feet nine inches high, covered with beautifully carved flowers and leaves.

At each corner of the mausoleum rises a carved pyramidal column, surmounted by caps that are unmistakably Doric. On two sides of the room are tombs of humbler design. They are side by side, of uniform size and twenty in number, ten on a side. Like the mausoleum they are carved out of the solid rock and embellished with bas-reliefs. On the wall of the room, opposite the entrance, is planted twenty-five faces, no doubt portraits of those whose bones lie in the tombs. They are faded and blurred, but still distinct enough to be distinguished. Eight of these faces are of children, five of youths, two of young men, nine middle-aged men and women and one, in the centre of the group, an exact copy of the face of the recumbent figure in the mausoleum. The colors used are red, yellow, black and white and were evidently mixed with oil. The portraits are executed in a superior manner and the anatomical proportion of the features is preserved to an exact degree.

A MUMMY DISCOVERED.

Only one of the small tombs has been opened. It contained a splendidly preserved mummy, swathed in cloth covered with a thick varnish, which emits a pleasant aromatic odor not unlike balsam of fir. The mummy measures nine feet one inch in length and is evidently the body of a man. One of the party of discoverers cut the wrappings from the face, but did it so clumsily that the head crumbled into dust. Part of the hair remained sticking to the cloth, and your correspondent has a piece before him as he writes. It is black, curly and of fine texture. Besides the body of the giant the tomb contained a spear head, a hatchet, two lances, three mattocks or hoes, a spade, a cup, two plates and a small urn—all of copper. One of the lance heads and the smallest cup have been shown me. The wonderful people understood the secret of hardening copper, for an ordinary file will barely scratch the lance, and the edge of a cold-chisel turns up like lead when struck against it. The cup is of softer metal and beautifully engraved with trailing vines and wreaths. A square package of [illegible] cloth, contained a book of one hundred leaves of thin copper, fastened loosely at the top and crowded with finely engraved characters similar to those already described.

This remarkable cone is one of the most wonderful pre-historic remains ever discovered. Its builders were a race of giants, but whether they were also mound builders, I know not. The upper cone was the cellar of a house and used for domestic purposes, or as a place of retreat in case of attack on the above ground residence. In the first two chambers and in the last five, are many curious formations in the shape of tables and benches, which have always been presumed to be of natural origin. Later examinations revealed the works of chisel and pick, which were also noticeable on the floor, roof and walls. The entire excavation is made out of solid rock, and all the chambers were at one time of the same width and height. The irregularity of the roof, walls and floor of the limestone chamber is due to natural causes. In all probability this room was dry when the wonderful people who designed and built it were alive. The stalactites and stalagmites have formed since. I measured one of the longest of the former. It was five feet six and one-half inches from base to apex. Allowing that it lengthened at the rate of one inch every fifty years—which a geological friend tells me is very rapid growth—it would have been three thousand, three hundred and twenty-five years reaching its present length. Conjecture alone can fix the date of the last occupancy of the cave. It must have been years before the stalactites began to form.

The owner of the cave, Mr. Grooms, has organized a company with capital, and they contemplate opening all the tombs and the great mausoleum. As soon as all arrangements are completed the cave will be thrown open to the public and an admission fee charged.

Iceland.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The Paris Temps, commenting on the sympathy shown Mr. Parnell by American dignitaries and legislatures, says: "Mr. Parnell has evidently been adroit in selecting the time for his American campaign. The Presidential elections will be held in the course of this year, and the vote of 7,000,000 Irish electors is very important. There is no wish to estrange the Irish, and this is why Mr. Parnell is supported. He will return to Ireland with the prestige of a great success and the strength given by a respectable sum of money. His party will therefore approach the coming elections in especially favorable circumstances, with an organization all prepared and with plenty of money." The Paris correspondent of the Times, commenting on the above, says: "The Temps seems to be under the impression that the American subscription for relief of the distress in Ireland will be available for electioneering purposes."

The Chesapeake and Ohio.

Correspondence of the New York World.

RICHMOND, Jan. 23.—A good deal of uneasiness exists here about the late outgivings of the President of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. He is supposed to be emphasizing by active movements the declarations of his last annual report to the stockholders, in which he declares that before the road can be brought up to its full earning capacity it must have a tide-water terminus, with elevators, piers and other terminal facilities. A survey has been ordered for a route from Gordonsville to the lower Potomac. In addition, there are three other routes compared—Norfolk river; Newport News, at the mouth of the James, and Norfolk, which is most earnest in her effects to be the tide-water terminus of the new Western trunk line to the seabord. The people here begin to feel that their city is to be a way station, and not, as was hoped, an emporium of Western and Southern commerce.

The W. N. C. R. R.

Statesville Landmark.

We only desire that the State be rid of it, and that it fall into such hands as will complete it. If any of our own people want it, give them the preference over the stranger, but so far as the State is concerned this is a property which it is good economy to give away to any one who will have it. It is and will ever remain a leech upon the pockets of the people; it has drawn and will continue to draw out while it has never put anything back.

The Failing Ice Crop.

They will begin cutting ice on the Kenduskeag stream, Maine, this week. The ice is of good quality, and fourteen inches thick. On the river at Bangor it is only eight inches thick. The best ice is looked for in February, and that month will determine the supply. In Connecticut they have already stored considerable ice, but it is only of inferior quality and only six inches thick. Many New Jersey towns are lamenting the loss of revenue consequent upon the failure of the ice crop. No ice of consequence has been harvested on the Hudson, and south of that so far there has been no show for an ice crop.

Grant's Remembered Blunders.

Evening Telegraph.

If General Grant should be renominated, the Democrats would be able to carry on such a campaign against him as against no other candidate the party could nominate. He would, through the recorded and remembered blunders and crimes of his administrations, supply all the elements of defeat to the enemy, and in the whole array there would be none so valuable to successful assault as the standard bearer himself.

Moore's School History of North Carolina.

This valuable little book is rapidly establishing a place as a text book in our schools throughout the State. Many of our best teachers have highly recommended it and are now using it, and we believe that it will not be long before every North Carolina child will know something of North Carolina History.

There are about 60,000 Mennonites in America. They have 500 meeting-houses, one-eighth of that number being in Canada. They abstain from taking the oath, do not in fliet punishment, do not accept public office and never go to law. They are nearly all farmers.

The Mardi Gras Doings at New Orleans.

The celebrated carnival festivities this year have an unusual interest to the public generally, owing to the fact that the great procession of maskers and mummers takes place on Tuesday, February 10th, when on the same day the 117th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery Company occurs, when $20,000 will be given away to some one (it may be you) for $2. For further information address M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at No. 319 Broadway, New York City, N. Y.

Prejudice.

The prejudice of many in favor of the old methods of treatment is vanishing before the accumulated evidence in favor of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

DONAN OF DEADWOOD.

HE SEEKS NEW FIELDS AND PASTURES GREEN.

Some Interesting Facts in Regard to Donan and Manning in their Wild Western Home.

Colonel P. Donan is now editor of the Black Hills Daily Pioneer published in Deadwood, Dakota. His paper is large, well printed and brimful of Donan's sparkling wit and original expressions. Deadwood is a remarkable place, as will be seen from Mr. Manning's opinion of it which we also print below. Those of our citizens who were such admirers of Colonel Donan should subscribe for his paper. The price for the daily is only $18.00 a year and the weekly $5.00.

"DONAN OF DEADWOOD."

The Fargo (Da.) daily Argus has the following to say on this subject:

"Under the above caption the Pine Bluff (Ark.) Press prints something that the Argus is glad to read and republish. The article is a cheering evidence that the spirit of narrow provincialism is certainly dying out, in parts, at least, of the Sunny South. The slightest change of variation in the average sentiment of a section or a community is at once flashed upon the dial of the press and all men read it, and read it aright. When the leading journals of the South arrive at the point of admitting that there are things, not previously dreampt of in their philosophy, we are glad to believe that their constituencies are beginning to realize in some sort the existence of facts, people and things, independent of and, mayhap, superior to the restricted conditions of cross-roads, county or State society, interests and importance.

Donan, of Deadwood, is a somewhat different person from the old, familiar and popular confederate rough-riding colonel, from the old North Carolina and Arkansas Editor Donan. Probably he is, for Donan, whether of Deadwood or elsewhere, is always a man of experience, education, culture and, above all of unprejudiced observation. His old compatriots know this, and knowing it are compelled to believe, while they may wonder at it, that his change of front is the result of new light. What nearly all the otherwise amiable and intelligent men of education in the south need, is just the element in character that Colonel Donan possesses in a marked degree, namely, cosmopolitanism. If they, too, would come out of their shells and become intimate with the conditions of the progress, rushing and boiling just beyond to the north, and of which until now they have been far-off, uninterested spectators, the change from ultra conversatism and hatred of the present with its inexorable demands upon the brain and brawn of mankind, to identification and participation in the fierce march of Anglo-Saxon developement would be rapid, while yet it is but slow at the best. The north and the south only misunderstand each other, because although of the same blood and faith, they have been educated under conditions diverging and antagonistic. Two civilizations, diametrically opposed to each other, can never exist within one nation; that of the south peculiarly is a thing of the to the status dictated by the logic of events, and the first good step toward doing so is in being willing to learn and to listen to the voice of friends who, like "Donan of Deadwood," have lived and fought for it, have loved it through good and bad repute, and would fight, and die, if need be, for his southland to-day."

Colonel Donan's paper thus alludes to Mr. W. T. Manning, formerly of the Danville (Va.) News, who has accepted a position with the Colonel:

"DELIGHTED WITH DEADWOOD.

W. T. Manning, late owner and manager of the Danville (Va.) Daily News, one of the leading journals in the Old Dominion, arrived in Deadwood last Sunday night, intending to make this his home. He is perfectly enraptured with our place and people. He had thought that the sketches of our business, our buildings and our society, which he read in the Pioneer, were simply showy romances, written for amusement or for advertising purposes; but, on coming among us, he is compelled, like the colored lady who came to bring peacocks and monkeys to Judeh's Wise Man, to exclaim: "Lo, the half had not been told me." When he sees all our theatres, banks, hotels, elegant club-houses, immense stores, telegraph and telephone offices and four big daily papers, a rushing, prosperous, beautiful city, where four years ago a white man's foot had never trod, and where twelve weeks ago there was nothing but heaps of ashes and smouldering ruins, he declares he cannot believe it is real. It seems to him like a wild dream from the Arabian Nights, and he cannot help expecting to wake up some morning and find that it has all vanished like a gorgeous mirage or the airy creation of a magician's spells. The letters he is sending off are all written in superlatives."

PARAGRAPHS FROM THE PIONEER.

The following excerpts are made from Colonel Donan's editorial columns and will be recognized as his by the old admirers of his original style:

Old Aleck Stephens is said to be growing stouter. His vest buttons don't stick to his backbone now.

Imperial Dakota, land of wheat fields, gold mines and bull-calf pastures, is the coming giantess of the Union sisterhood.

Bull-calves, wheat fields and gold mines would all three blend harmoniously in one grand, imperial commonwealth; or either one of them would serve to build a thrifty, homogeneous little state, of which her every citizen might well be proud.

Swing southeastern Dakota and the Black Hills over the Union clothesline as one state, and the famed Kilkenny cats would become angelic members of the universal peace and brotherhood association.

Bismarck is about to flicker out. Not the would-be capital of North Dakota, but the distinguished German minister. Not a minister in the evangelical sense of the term; not a preacher, but a reacher and a grasper. He is now a gasper.

Chorus of Deadwoodian bachelors, leather-lunged and dismal, five hundred in a row: "Two weeks of leap-year gone, and we are not saved! The harvest is plenty, but the damsels are few."

One state, with Yankton as the head and the Gold Hills as the tail, or vice versa, would form an eternity of organized kicks, caterwauls, blood, hair, hell and other signs of riot. We want none of it in ours.

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1880.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

QUEEN VICTORIA insists that it is not that she cares for her own life that she has had extra guards ordered on duty at Windsor Palace, but that she thinks the Prince of Wales should have a fair show for getting in the last of his crop of wild oats before he is forced to sit on a throne and slash around with a scepter.

THE Grant boomers in Washington say that the statement just sent out over the wires that Grant is to be withdrawn as a candidate, is a weak device of the enemy—that is to say, the united field of the other candidates. They assert their unimpaired confidence that he will be nominated upon the first ballot.

INDIANA opens up the elections of the presidential year on the first Monday in April, when seven constitutional amendments are put to the vote, one of which, if adopted, will defer the fall State election from October till the date of the general election in November. The Republicans generally favor the amendments and the Democrats oppose them. One of the amendments proposes a registry law, which the Democrats oppose on the ground that it will open the door to new election frauds and endless trouble.

CARDINAL MANNING, speaking at a temperance meeting at Liverpool the other day, said that in Manchester, Liverpool and London the Teetotal League of the Cross numbered fifty thousand of the soberest men in England. Drunkenness was affecting England's factory hands to such an extent, he said, that Americans who had visited England to study the labor question declared that the factory of America was more efficient than that of England in consequence of intemperance among the English factory operatives.

GEORGE FAULKS was arrested a few, days ago at Springfield, Ill., for bigamy. A year ago he married Ida Sairage, daughter of a widow in Clinton, Illinois, brought her here and deserted her. It has since appeared that Faulks has a wife in Mt. Auburn, one near Champaign, one at Williamsville, one at Winterset, Iowa, and it is believed also one at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, where he has been wanted for forgery, arson, etc., for some years. He is 35 years of age and good looking. He was arrested by the Bloomington police at his father's house in Springfield.

THERE were cries of "go it, Kearney," when the Sand Lot man, thoroughly heated in the presence of his three thousand New York auditors, on Friday night, had called Jay Gould "the lean, lantern-jawed and shark-snouted cormorant;" James Gordon Bennett "the lep-e-rous proprietor of the New York Herald," and the Rev. Dr. John Hall "a miserable, festering, contemptible whelp." And when the speaker shrieked: "But last, though not least, is the devil fish, the political devil fish, with his false teeth, false wig, false heart and false gizzard—the fraud, the cipher fraud, the fraud of frauds, Sam ——" an explosion of laughter, hand-claps, hisses, groans and shouts. Dennis can stir 'em up.

CINCINNATI is making arrangements to form a railroad combination, and, if effected, it will be a formidable one. The project is to combine the Cincinnati Southern, Western and Atlantic (from Chattanooga to Atlanta), and Georgia Central (from Atlanta to Savannah). This would give Cincinnati an outlet to the Atlantic, besides excellent connections for the Southern trade. The Cincinnati Southern was built by public enterprise for commercial objects, and is not seeking dividends or profits. It is not burdened with a heavy bonded debt, and, therefore, it can carry freight and passengers at lower rates than rival lines can stand. This is the Cincinnati plan now, and if carried out another lively war of rates between railroads may be expected.

THE outlook for the racing season of 1880 brightens to an extent that will gratify the expectations of the most ardent of sportmen. The stakes of the new Louisiana, Coney Island and Chicago jockey clubs will close within a week; those of the Saratoga Association and the American Jockey Club on March 1, while the Mammoth Park Association stakes will remain open until April 1. Prospects in this vicinity are particularly promising. Surveys have been made for the new course of the Coney Island Jockey Club at Sheepshead Bay, and the work of construction will be pushed forward vigorously until the track is completed. At the Brighton Beach Fair Grounds active preparations are on foot for the spring contests, and at Monmouth and Jerome Parks the managers are making ready for a brilliant campaign.

THERE was a crash in the wheat market Saturday, and, as in the break in the stock market not long since, the small speculators are the sufferers. The heavy speculators organized a syndicate last fall for the purpose o bulling the wheat market. They forced the price up steadily until small speculators entered the market in large numbers. The latter continued the purchase, apparently taking no notice of the enormous quantities of wheat that were gathering in warehouses and other places of storage. At the time that suited their purpose the bears assisted the decline and the crash came. Wheat fell from three to five cents per bushel Saturday, but though there were many rumors of firms being involved, it turned out that only one was much crippled. The small speculators were about the only sufferers. The crash, however, had the effect of reviving the exportation of wheat to a considerable extent, and it is possible that it may continue, and in the end involve the syndicate of large speculators. Leading shipping men of New York say that if the syndicate have money enough to hold out longer than their European customers, the former will come out victorious in their grand scheme; but the fall in the market and consequent revival of exportation may result badly for the syndicate. There is more idle tonage now lying at New York and other ports than was ever known before, the result of the grain blockade, brought about by the manipulations of the speculators.

A Cute Trick.

A Canadian defaulter played a cute trick. Having stolen and skipped with $6,000, which was entrusted to him in the double capacity of post-master and telegraph operator, he stopped in the evening at a country village and stopped into the telegraph office. There he heard the message come over, "Robber escaped." The operator was a girl, and he told her he was a repairer sent by the telegraph company. She asked him to help her, as the wires were out of repair. So he took the message in full; but, instead of copying it out, invented and substituted one saying that the thief was coming that way, and would try to pass himself off for a detective in pursuit of the thief. Then he "lit out" again and crossed the line, settling in the United States. Meanwhile the pursuing detective, who never caught him, was arrested and trotted around the village for people to look at the big thief till the robbed man came up and released him.

A Down-town Merchant.

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

A Paper for all classes of the People and in every Department of life.
Independent and Conservative.

THE SUN is conservative in politics, independent in tone and non-sectarian. Its proprietors point to the principles that have governed it in the past as a guarantee of its course in the future. On all subjects of public interest it will continue to express its opinions, according to its best judgment, with a view only to the promotion of the best interest of the public. All the freshest news, at home and abroad, excluding only that which is prurient or sensational, is given from day to day in its columns. In addition to what is furnished by the Associated Press and by the local reporters of The Sun, no expense is spared to keep its special correspondence, that from Europe as well as from the Pacific Coast, and from its Washington Bureau abreast of the times, and to supplement it, as occasion may require, at every other point to which the current of events give prominence.

The Financial and Commercial Reports of The Sun contain at all times full and trustworthy accounts of all movements and operations in the leading markets, as well as that of Baltimore, with special telegraph service from New York of the latest stock and other transactions; while its reports of the ruling prices of breadstuffs, provisions, and other leading articles of trade and commerce, will embrace the latest intelligence, both at home and abroad, of each day's doings, up to the hour of going to press.

As a Paper for the People, filled with the freshest and most varied news, The Sun has acquired a reputation which is not surpassed by any of its contemporaries, while its large circulation, not only locally, but in many of the States of the Union, makes it the most valuable medium for all classes of advertisers.

Rosadalis.

OSADALIS

THE GREAT SOUTHERN remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scrofulous Taint, Rheumatism, White Swelling Gout, Goitre, Consumption Bronchitis, Nervous Debility and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the Blood.

The merits of this valuable preparation are so well known that a passing notice is but necessary to remind the readers of this journal of the necessity of always having a bottle of this medicine among their stock of family necessities.

Certificates can be presented from many leading Physicians Minister, and heads of families throughout the South, and endorsing in the highest terms The Fluid Extract of Rosadalis.

DR. S. WILLIAM CARR, of Baltimore says he has used it in cases of Scrofula and other diseases with much satisfaction.

DR. T. C. PUGH, of Baltimore, recommends it to all persons suffering with diseased Blood, saying it is superior to any preparation he has ever used.

REV DABNEY BALL, of the Baltimore M. E. Conference South, says he is so much benefited by its use that he cheerfully recommends it to all his friends and acquaintances.

CRAVEN & Co., Druggists, of Gordonsville, Va., says it never has failed to give satisfaction.

Samuel G. McFadden, of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, says it cured him of Rheumatism when all else failed.

Rosadalis is not a secret quack preparation, its ingredients are pubished on every package. Show it to your Physician and he will tell you it is composed of the strongest alteratives that exist, and is an excellent blood purifier. Did our space admit we could give you testimonials from every State in the South and from persons known to every man, woman and child either personally or by reputation.

Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

Wouldn't be Bulldozed.

Boston Courier.

One would imagine that the Water Department would be a good place to secure variety, but such is far from being the case. Outside of the people who pay rates when due and have no words about it, there is only one class. The man who has waited until notified that the water will be shut off if he does not come to time, walks into the office with a look of awful indignity on his brow, and says:

"Going to shut my water off, eh?"

Silence on the part of the clerk.

"I'd like to see you try it on, I would! If this water department imagines that it runs the whole city, it will find itself grandly mistaken!"

More silence from the clerk.

"If the water had been shut off I'd have given this board such a tilt as it never had before! It can brow-beat some men, but it musn't try any Cæsarism on me!"

The clerk looks out of the window.

"I now refuse to pay the rates, and you shut the water off if you dare! I'll make a test case of it and carry it to the Supreme Court!"

The clerk shifts his weight to the other leg.

"Yes, I'll carry it to the Supreme Court if it costs me $10,000. I have never allowed any one to trample on me, and it's too late to begin now."

The clerk softly whistles, and the indignant citizen starts for the door, halts, returns slowly, and says:

"No, you can't brow-beat me."

The clerk began making out his receipt.

"I know my rights as an American citizen, and I will maintain them—how much is it?"

"Six dollars."

"We have no Czar in this country, and take it out of this ten."

"Fine day," remarks the clerk as he hands over change.

"Yes, purty fair. This board musn't try to bulldoze me. I'm not the man to submit to any sort of tyranny. Looks like snow, don't it? Is that clock right? Lots of pipes frozen up, I'spose. Well, good-day."

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —— of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.
MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.
NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

MEDICINAL AND TOILET.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington street, Boston, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

TUTT'S PILLS

SYMPTOMS OF A
TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulder-blade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine.

IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says: "After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says: "I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

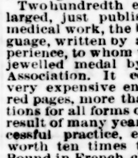
KNOW THYSELF



THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

Drug Store for Sale,

In one of the best business towns in N. C., doing a good retail business. Stock and fixtures first-class, amount about $2,000. Best location in the place. Good reasons for selling. Address, BOX No. 279, dec 30-3tw1m Raleigh, N. C.

A Rare Chance for Investment.

Wishing to give my whole attention to the lumber trade, in which I am about to engage on a larger scale than ever before, I offer for sale on terms to suit the times the following valuable property in Cary:

I.

MY PLUG TOBACCO FACTORY, in a BRICK building 50x80 feet, 3 stories high, the lower story being two large storerooms. The Tobacco Machinery is new and has a capacity of manufacturing 1,000 lbs. per day. The factory has been worked a year, and a good beginning for a trade has been made. The building and the machinery will be sold together, or separately to suit purchasers.

II.

GRAIN MILLS,

in a 3 story brick building, 28x40 feet. Two Wheat Mills and one Corn Mill, new and complete with a capacity for grinding 100 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of corn a day, and can compete in quality of flour with any mills in the State. The mills have had a very large local patronage during the past year. They are driven by a 60 HORSE POWER STEAM ENGINE, improved, of the make of Talbott & Sons, Richmond.

Attached to the engine is also a 60 Saw COTTON GIN and power press, at a safe distance (about 100 feet) in a different lot. The engine has a brick smoke-stack 60 feet high, making the danger from fire the least possible and the rate of insurance very low.

III.

Several well built and handsome residences, with lots and gardens of about 1 acre to each dwelling. They are wooden buildings, 2 stories high, with from 5 to 7 rooms each, situated in desirable locations in the village.

Besides these, 4 one acre lots, with cottage buildings of 2 rooms.

TERMS: One third Cash; balance on reasonable time.

A. F. PAGE,
jan 2-tf Cary, N. C.

GOOD FARMING LANDS FOR SALE

Having changed my [illegible] mining to saw milling, I now [illegible] a few hundred acres good farming [illegible] on around the thriving town of A[illegible] sale on reasonable terms. These [illegible] divided into four separate tracts, [illegible] acres from 58 to 112 acres each. About 127 a[illegible] cleared and in fine farming condition, about all fresh and well adapted to the growth of cotton, wheat, corn, oats, tobacco and field crops generally.

Apex is situated on the R. & A. A. L. R. R., 15 miles from Raleigh, in a healthy and moral community, good schools, churches, &c., in the town.

G. W. ATKINSON.

I also have one three acre lot in the city of Raleigh with dwelling house and some other improvements, for sale.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Revenue receipts yesterday were $1,116.16.

——Married: In Warrenton, N. C., on the 27th inst. S. W. Brewer, of Raleigh, to Miss Bessie Felt of that place.

——Mr. S. W. Brewer and bride will make an extended Northern tour, returning to the city one day next week.

——Messrs. Geo. W. Whitaker and N. J. Whitaker have qualified as executors of the estate of the late Willis S. Whitaker.

——We note that cotton advanced thirty "points" in New York on yesterday. Our market was active at 12¼ for middlings.

——A literary or debating club has been formed by the young men of the city. It is to be hoped that good results may come out of it.

——James Jeffries, George Overby, white, and Thos. Hinton, Duncan Harris and Peter Williams, colored, were given quarters at the poor house yesterday to serve the county for fines unpaid.

——Among the prominent arrivals in the city yesterday were Colonel Jno. M. Moring, of Chatham; General P. B. Hawkins, of Louisburg; A. T. London, Esq., of Wilmington; and J. E. Boyd, of Graham.

——The regular semi-monthly meeting of St. John's Guild will be held in the reading room this evening at 8 o'clock. Every member is earnestly requested to attend, as business of importance is to be discussed.

——Mr. N. H. Bennett, of Knabe's Celebrated Piano Works, has returned to the city again after a business trip to Wilmington, N. C. He will continue to occupy the ware-rooms on Fayetteville street, opposite the State National Bank.

——The Railroad "magnates" are again in council at Atlanta, Ga. Representatives of all the main railroad lines in the South are in attendance. Major Winder and Colonel Andrews are there representing their lines. We hope they will get matters "fixed up" this time to the satisfaction of all.

——Messrs. Yeargan, Petty & Co., have received an unusually large shipment of Mile End Spool Cotton, which they claim to be the largest ever brought to this city at one time. A couple of thousand dozen spools of cotton is a right good purchase for one firm. It is gratifying to note that this house is making rapid headway in this jobbing department of their business and that they are successfully competing with Northern merchants in every respect.

——The following items of general interest are taken from Colonel Cameron's excellent paper, the Durham Recorder:

Come to Durham or go to Hillsboro, is the advice given to the projectors of the University Railroad.

James Webb, Jr., & Co. have bought the old Hillsboro Academy, and are removing the brick for the purpose of their factory.

There is so much progress in Durham that there is not room for the stores, and one has been opened on Chapel Hill street, outside the corporation.

Mr. A. W. Graham left for Arkansas on Friday night. He is employed in a big suit and expects to be gone about a month.

The new proprietor of the Grand Central is making large improvements, and, by excavations and otherwise, expects to add thirty-five rooms to his house.

Roulhac & Co. have been enlarging their borders, and have had more orders than they could fill, working an extra force day and night.

Knabe Pianos.

Mr. N. H. Bennett, agent for Wm. Knabe & Co., has another invoice of those celebrated pianos on the road. If you contemplate purchasing, wait and see them. They will be on exhibition at No. 20 Fayetteville St., about Saturday of this week. The best is the cheapest. It is poor policy to spend your money for cheap pianos without any reputation whatever.

The following statement from a well known citizen of Granville county is but another proof of the remarkable virtue of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy:

"Last March I bought a bottle of Mrs. Joe Person's Bittters and some of the Wash, to try on my nephew, who was badly afflicted with Scrofula, the doctors had attended him for two years and did him no good, they recommended Sarsaparilla, Iredine and other medicines which I tried without any benefit. I had not used Mrs. Person's Remedy more than a week before I saw a change for the better. I continued its use until I had given him four bottles, and I am glad to say, he is now well. I know it to be all she claims for it, a certain cure for Scrofula, and unequalled as a Tonic and blood purifier. It ought to be in every durg store in the United States.

W. S. FARABOW,
Tally Ho, N. C.

Jan. 20, 1880.

The medicine can be obtained in Raleigh from Wm. Simpson, F. H. Heartt and Pescud, Lee & Co. Persons desiring to see testimonials of cures, can obtain circulars by application to them or Mrs. Person.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anæmia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.

THE NEW FRYER.

This useful invention meets a long-felt need for a more convenient method of removing Oysters, Potatoes, and other fried food, with greater quickness, and all at once, from the boiling fat in which they have been cooked, and allowing the fat to drain from them while they remain over the fire; thereby getting rid more certainly of the superfluous grease, the objection so often made of the unhealthiness of food cooked in the ordinary frying-pan is done away with.

By detaching the supporter, you have for omelettes and other things for which a drainer is not required, a deeper and better quality of frying-pan than has heretofore been made.
